

Leadership Development Discussion Group

The leadership development discussion group is designed to provide a forum to extend leadership learning and development in a safe and confidential environment, amongst peers. The group is suitable for leaders, emerging leaders and managers.

Discussions will be facilitated by experienced organisational psychologist(s) who are also established leaders. This group is not a place for therapy or crisis intervention, but is intended to educate and support you within your current role, or to fulfil your leadership ambitions.

- Participants should ideally be in a managerial or leadership role
- Small groups of approximately 15 participants
- Groups conducted fortnightly, of 90 minutes duration
- $55 per session (incl GST)
- Held on weeknights at 5.30pm to 7pm.
- Light refreshments provided

Topics may include:

Session 1	The relationship between management and leadership Developing value-based leadership
Session 2	Approaches to leadership Determining your leadership style
Session 3	Understanding your leadership style What should I be doing more of.... and less of....?
Session 4	Resilience and leadership Strategies.
Session 5	Authentic leadership. And more strategies.

For more information, or to submit an Expression Of Interest, please contact reception at Cairnmillar on 9813 3400, or email reception@cairnmillar.org.au

For more information on the Cairnmillar Institute see: www.cairnmillar.org.au